| RECOMMENDATIONS.....                                                                                                                                                                               | 24  |
| RECOMMENDATION 1 : Establish an ongoing review process for all boards and commissions, including true enforcement of sunrise and sunset provisions. ....                                           | 24         |
| RECOMMENDATION 2 : Reform the structure of advisory boards to create stronger channels for citizen input and facilitate meaningful perspective for policymakers. ....                              | 25         |
| RECOMMENDATION 3 : Modernize Iowa's open meetings laws to allow virtual or hybrid meetings more easily, which will expand public participation.....                                                | 26         |
| RECOMMENDATION 4 : Remove arbitrary meeting requirements and allow boards and commissions to convene only as truly needed.....                                                                     | 27         |
| RECOMMENDATION 5 : Allow the most qualified Iowans to serve on boards and commissions by repealing the gender-balance requirement. ....                                                            | 28         |
| RECOMMENDATION 6 : Increase engagement on identified critical boards and commissions by compensating members for their more than "part time" work. ....                                            | 29         |
| RECOMMENDATION 7 : Clarify the budget and rulemaking roles of a part-time board or commission that oversees a full-time executive branch agency. ....                                              | 30         |
| RECOMMENDATION 8 : Implement clear, consistent, and effective licensing standards to reduce barriers to entry into the workforce while continuing to protect the health and safety of Iowans. .... | 31         |
| RECOMMENDATION 9 : Consolidate, merge, eliminate, or otherwise reorganize Iowa's boards and commissions to allow state government to better serve its citizens. ....                               | 33         |

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Boards and commissions offer citizens the opportunity to engage directly in state policymaking as a part of Iowa's traditional three branches of government. And boards are popular: the number of state boards and commissions has expanded from several dozen to several hundred since our founding. But despite countless reexaminations of traditional state government in that time, Iowa has never evaluated the structure and effectiveness of its boards and commissions.

Earlier this year, Governor Kim Reynolds led the charge to align state government for the first time in nearly forty years. Senate File 514 reduced the number of cabinet-level departments in the executive branch, leveraged shared services, improved efficiencies, and decreased costs. Most importantly, the Governor's alignment elevated experience and outcomes for all Iowans that interact with the executive branch.

The State is overdue to evaluate its boards and commissions. As was raised by the Governor's Economic Recovery Advisory Board in 2021, the best way to ensure that multiple layers of government do not overlap with one another or impede the experience and outcomes of Iowans is to conduct one single, comprehensive review of Iowa's boards and commissions.<sup>1</sup> Iowans don't care whether an important decision, an increased fee, or a burdensome regulation was the responsibility of a state department or a state board—the government took that action. And whenever government acts on behalf of its citizens, it has a duty to ensure it is delivering services in a fair and consistent manner.

This Committee was formed to study and make recommendations on the structure of 256 boards, councils, commissions, committees, and panels that span all of state government. The charge was simple: are the goals and objectives of Iowa's boards and commissions being met? And if not, should those boards be eliminated, consolidated, or reorganized?<sup>2</sup>

During its review, the Committee held four public meetings, heard testimony from citizens, stakeholders, and board members, and received written comments from thousands of Iowans. The Committee thanks each of those individuals for participating in this review process, along with participating state agencies, officials, and public employees.

<sup>2</sup> The Committee's full charge, established in 2023 Iowa Acts ch. 19, § 2803, is included as Appendix A. The list of 256 boards and commissions is included as Appendix B. Notable boards and commissions outside the scope of the Committee's review—either because the entity exists only in federal law, exists outside of the Iowa Code, or has no true nexus to state government—are included as Appendix C.

This Report contains bold solutions. This Committee believes Iowa has too many boards and commissions, as do most Iowans.<sup>3</sup> The challenge, of course, is deciding which boards provide value to Iowans, which can be improved, and which are no longer necessary. While most can agree there are too many boards, no one will agree on the best solution. For its part, the Committee's recommendations will result in:

- 111 fewer boards and commissions, a reduction of approximately 43%.
- At least 450 fewer Governor-appointed members.
- Increased engagement on boards and commissions and an expansion of the number of Iowans eligible to serve on boards.
- Implementation of clear, consistent, and effective licensing standards that will reduce barriers to entry into the workforce while continuing to protect the health and safety of Iowans.

Consistent with its legislative charge, the Committee hereby submits this Report to the Governor and General Assembly.

BACKGROUND

Part 1: Why Boards? Iowa's Fourth Branch of Government.

In 1857, Iowans divided the power of state government among three branches: legislative, executive, and judicial.<sup>4</sup> But since then, a fourth branch has emerged: Iowa's boards and commissions. Boards are granted broad authority by the legislature to craft policy on a wide range of issues. Although boards often “live” within the executive branch, board members serve years'-long terms that make them largely insulated and thus unaccountable to executive branch officials.<sup>5</sup> Decisions rendered by boards and commissions, although judicially reviewable, are hardly ever reversed.<sup>6</sup> In other words, boards are often accountable only to themselves. It's no wonder, then, that boards and commissions have long been referred to as the fourth branch of government.<sup>7</sup>

Why did we embrace the boards-and-commissions model? Because citizen representation on boards and commissions has long been recognized as an effective method to gain perspective from the community, industry, and interest groups.<sup>8</sup> Beginning in the mid-nineteenth century, federal and state governments began to diffuse executive power away from traditional departments and agencies and toward independent boards and commissions to administer new government programs.<sup>9</sup> The resulting citizen engagement is twofold: first, the boards-and-commissions model allows thousands of citizens to be board members themselves, and second, those citizens serve on bodies that hold public meetings and receive input from other everyday Iowans.<sup>10</sup>

No matter how formed, boards and commissions all share common threads. First, boards are inherently multi-membered. While boards may operate at a slower pace because they must necessarily coordinate before acting, multi-member boards offer diverse perspectives and foster important debate.<sup>11</sup> Second, boards have independence: they hold authority as a distinct entity, separate and apart from any related agency, department, or entity within state government.<sup>12</sup> Finally, boards have a defined role. Some are advisory, created to assist the policymaker by making recommendations, providing more objective information for evaluating programs and policies, or offering technical expertise on matters outside the organization's competencies.<sup>13</sup> Other boards are the policymaker, establishing rules and regulations, rendering decisions, setting goals and strategic plans, exercising fiduciary care, and evaluating agency programs.<sup>14</sup> Licensing boards are a particular type of policymaking board that are commonly granted the primary authority to regulate entire professions of business and industry.<sup>15</sup>

Every principle has its limits, and boards and commissions have drawbacks, too. Scholars have noted that policymakers often have no consistent rationale for choosing a board or commission to run a program instead of a department or agency.<sup>16</sup> And creating too many boards can result in a state government that becomes “thoroughly fractionalized” and operates disjointedly and sometimes at cross-purposes.<sup>17</sup>

Another challenge of the boards-and-commissions model is that it may attempt to address a temporary issue through a permanent structure. In other words, a board or commission may add significant value when a government program is created, but may quickly become unnecessary or counterproductive once that program is capable of being administered by a state agency. In those cases, the board may seize upon separate but related priorities and overextend its defined role, counter to legislative intent.<sup>18</sup>

Finally, most members on boards and commissions serve in a part-time capacity, which has practical limitations. Everyday Iowans may not have time to prepare, investigate, or research the complex or technical issues that are presented to them for official board approval. Instead, there's a real risk of the “rubber stamp effect,” in other words, when board members “systematically stamp their approval onto staff recommendations without asking probing questions or making significant changes.”<sup>19</sup> Those cases are particularly harmful because although department staff effectively made the decision, the board's independent authority makes the board's decision unaccountable to that department or the executive. Thus, in those cases, an independent board or commission is not as effective of a policymaker as the department or agency itself.

This background highlights the strengths and weaknesses of the role of boards and commissions in state government. It generally served to inform the Committee as it fulfilled its charge to evaluate Iowa's boards and commissions.

Part 2: Creation and Exponential Growth of Boards in Iowa.

Boards and commissions have existed since Iowa's territorial days. Notably, though, most territorial boards and commissions were created by the legislature to accomplish a one-time concrete task, such as the siting of roads, bridges, dams, or railroads.<sup>20</sup> Other territorial commissions were charged with establishing county seats or seats of justice.<sup>21</sup> Local community leaders, including legislators, were commonly appointed to such commissions. And notably, most of those task-specific commissions were not codified but existed only in session law.

By the late nineteenth century, the state legislature had created oversight boards of trustees for most of the state's educational and trade institutions, such as the State University in Iowa City, the Iowa State Agricultural College and Farm, the College for the Blind in Vinton, and the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb in Council Bluffs.<sup>22</sup> Oversight boards were also established for state facilities charged with caring for vulnerable populations, such as the Independence and Mount Pleasant mental health institutions and the Iowa Soldiers' Orphans' Home.<sup>23</sup> Members of these oversight boards were commonly elected by the general assembly, not appointed by the governor.

In 1878, Iowa created its first independent, regulatory multi-member body: the Iowa Railroad Commission.<sup>24</sup> The Railroad Commission was charged with enforcing the state's laws on railroads and supervising railroad companies doing business throughout Iowa.<sup>25</sup> Members were appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the executive council and given an annual salary of $3,000.<sup>26</sup> In the next several years, the legislature created other regulatory entities such as the Commissioners of Pharmacy, the State Board of Health, the Board of Dental

Examiners, the Educational Board of Examiners, and the Board of Medical Examiners.<sup>27</sup>

Yet from the beginning of the twentieth century to the present, the number of state boards and commissions has increased at an exponential rate. Boards doubled in the 1920s and 1930s, adding entities such as the Armory Board, the State Banking Council, and the State Conservation Commission.<sup>28</sup> By the end of the 1960s, the state had created nearly 80 boards and commissions.<sup>29</sup> In the 1970s, total boards skyrocketed from 83 to 170, adding the Campaign Finance Disclosure Commission, the College Student Aid Commission, and the Public Employment Relations Board, among others.<sup>30</sup> After a steady increase of boards for several more decades, in 2007 Iowa eclipsed 200 total boards and commissions.<sup>31</sup> And in 2023, by including entities required by federal law or existing outside of the Iowa Code, the number of Iowa boards and commissions is soon set to eclipse 300.<sup>32</sup>

Part 3: Shared Concepts from Other States.

An “apples to apples” comparison with another state’s boards and commissions is difficult because each state has distinct state constitutional provisions, its own unique history and tradition, varying demographics, and diverse economic interests. Nonetheless, three states have recently conducted a systematic review of their boards and commissions. Broader principles from those reviews are instructive for purposes of this Committee’s review.

Missouri Boards & Commissions Task Force

In 2017, the State of Missouri—led by now-Governor Mike Parson—undertook a comprehensive review of its boards and commissions with a goal of identifying opportunities to consolidate, eliminate, and modify those entities.<sup>33</sup> The twelve-member Boards and Commissions Task Force scrutinized the state’s over-200 boards and commissions and made a variety of insightful recommendations.<sup>34</sup> Helpful themes in the Missouri Report included:

- Merger of advisory bodies under a single department’s oversight board. Missouri’s Department of Health and Senior Services included two oversight boards (one for health and another for senior services) in addition to a large number of advisory councils within the department. Neither independent board had met regularly in years. The Missouri Report thus recommended (1) the creation of a single “Board of Health and Senior Services” and (2) the ability of the department director, in her discretion, to appoint advisory committees under that new Board to provide advice, collapsing at least six existing advisory bodies under the Board’s new responsibilities.

- Consolidation of related commodity boards. The Task Force observed that most boards associated with its Department of Agriculture relate to the marketing Missouri agricultural products.<sup>35</sup> But ultimately, the Task Force questioned why some agricultural products have a state-created board while other commodities do not. The Missouri Report thus proposed the creation of one “Missouri Agriculture Board” to include members from all agricultural backgrounds, giving the new Board discretion to create advisory bodies with members to be appointed by the director as needed by the department.
- Consolidation of related licensing boards. Missouri’s Department of Insurance, Financial Institutions, and Professional Registration regulates many occupations. The Task Force observed that while it is common among other states to utilize “umbrella” boards to license similar professions, Missouri generally uses individual, profession-by-profession boards. Among other licensing recommendations, the Missouri Report therefore proposed consolidation of four separate licensing boards into one: the State Committee of Marital and Family Therapists, the State Committee of Psychologists, the Committee for Professional Counselors, and the State Committee for Social Workers. The Missouri Report also recommended merging another advisory committee, the Advisory Committee for Behavior Analysts, under this newly composed Board with members to be appointed by the Board chair.

Recommendations from the Missouri Report were introduced the following legislative session, which ultimately led to a reduction of 25 boards and 138 fewer gubernatorial appointments.<sup>36</sup>

Wyoming Government Savings & Efficiency Project

In 2018, the State of Wyoming began the effort to evaluate and streamline its entire executive branch, including its over 200 boards and commissions.<sup>37</sup> Recommendations focused on evaluating opportunities to streamline administrative functions and shared services while reducing overlapping responsibilities and strengthening accountability for effective delivery of government services.<sup>38</sup> In particular, related to its boards and commissions, recommendations in Wyoming focused on:

- Reduction in the sheer number of boards and commissions;
- Shared administrative support among similar entities; and
- An improved oversight structure for boards and commissions.<sup>39</sup>

Ultimately, the Wyoming recommendations consolidated over 200 boards and commissions into 29 new entities, based on subject matter areas such as Arts & Culture, Educational Accountability, and Professional Licenses.<sup>40</sup> Subject-matter boards would then remain accountable to, or become associated with, a corresponding department within the Governor's Cabinet.<sup>41</sup>

New Hampshire Licensure & Regulatory Reform

In February 2023, New Hampshire Governor Chris Sununu announced a licensure and regulatory reform package as part of his annual budget bill.<sup>42</sup> The Governor's plan included the elimination of 14 occupational licensing boards from the state's Office of Professional Licensure and Certification (OPLC) along with cuts to burdensome regulations and the elimination of outdated licenses from state government.<sup>43</sup> Reforms included:

- Transformation of certain licensure boards to advisory boards. For each of its occupational licensing boards, New Hampshire's OPLC reviewed the number of active licensees and the number of complaints for each profession. Given the low volume of each, eight licensing boards were recommended to transition into working groups composed of licensed professionals. Those professionals would advise the Executive Director of OPLC, who would assume authority to license and discipline professionals. Affected boards included: Board of Acupuncture Licensing, Board of the Certification of Assessors, Family Mediator Certification Board, Guardian Ad Litem Board, Manufactured Housing Installation Standards Board, Midwifery Council, Naturopathic Board of Examiners, Board of Nursing Home Administrators.
- Consolidation of related licensing boards. The Governor's proposal increased efficiency and reduced barriers to the workforce by combining oversight and consolidating similar professional licensing boards, effectively eliminating six boards. Among those changes, the Board of Land Surveyors and Board of

- Elimination of unnecessary boards. Finally, the Governor's proposal eliminated 8 boards that no longer served a necessary function, were not necessary to protect the public, or served as an unnecessary barrier to the workforce. Affected boards included: Board of Directors of Allied Health Professionals, Board of Foresters, Board of Landscape Architects, Board of Natural Scientists, Board of Registration of Medical Technicians, Court Reporters Advisory Board, Manufactured Housing Complaint Board, Medical Imaging and Radiation Therapists Advisory Board.

In June of this year, Governor Sununu signed the state's budget bill, which was accompanied by the elimination of outdated and defunct licenses.<sup>44</sup>

Part 4: Recent Discussions in Iowa.

Unlike Missouri, Wyoming, and New Hampshire, Iowa has never engaged in a serious, comprehensive evaluation of its boards and commissions. To the contrary, Iowa's history suggests that individual boards are created sporadically, often to administer a new government program, study an emerging issue, or provide advice or recommendations on behalf of a community group.

The COVID-19 pandemic forced many sectors, including state government, to quickly reevaluate the delivery of its services to Iowans. In June 2020, Governor Reynolds established the Governor's Economic Recovery Advisory Board to learn from the challenges and innovations of Iowans throughout the pandemic.<sup>45</sup> One working group of the Board, charged with ensuring that state government operates in a citizen- and service-focused attitude and in an effective and efficient manner, recommended a comprehensive review of all boards and commissions within state government. As the working group noted in the Board's final report:

While each layer of government has been thoughtfully assembled, no review of the aggregate is conducted to ensure an effective and efficient government is deployed for the citizens of Iowa. Multiple layers of government often encroach on each other's missions and different entities frequently operate in the same space – occasionally with opposing objectives.<sup>46</sup>

Although the working group did not make specific recommendations for the elimination and consolidation of boards, it did note that an ongoing sunset review process should be established in Iowa law to reevaluate boards and commissions on a regular cadence.<sup>47</sup>

Months later, during the 2021 legislative session, Senate File 487 attempted to do just that: the bill created an ongoing review process for boards and commissions across state government.<sup>48</sup> Under SF487, the already-existing State Government Efficiency Review Committee—a bipartisan standing legislative committee—would be responsible for reviewing each board or commission every five years.<sup>49</sup> Newly created boards would also be required to include an automatic five-year sunset.<sup>50</sup> SF487 passed the Senate and made it through committee in the Iowa House with amendment; however, the bill was not brought to the House floor.

Another proposal from the 2022 legislative session raised a separate but relevant discussion: senate confirmation of gubernatorial appointees to boards and commissions. Senate File 2263 removed senate confirmation for 29 boards and commissions within state government.<sup>51</sup> In exchange for removing the confirmation requirement, SF2263 proposed that any appointment not otherwise subject to confirmation could become subject to confirmation if requested by a majority of senators.<sup>52</sup> SF2263 passed the Senate but ultimately did not become law.

In 2023, the Iowa House passed House File 566, a bill that eliminated 11 boards or commissions within the Department of Health and Human Services and made changes to the scope, membership, or confirmation of 5 additional DHHS boards.<sup>53</sup> The proposal also defined hybrid and teleconference participation for purposes of open meetings laws and removed per diem payments and expense reimbursements for 12 boards or commissions.<sup>54</sup> The proposal did not advance in the Senate.

Also in 2023, Senate File 136 sought to repeal the provision of Iowa law that requires gender balance on most state and local boards and commissions. The bill's sponsor noted that boards and commissions should be comprised of the most qualified individuals willing to serve, regardless of sex.<sup>55</sup> The sponsor also pointed out the difficulties that state and local officials have in finding individuals to fill board seats and ongoing litigation against the State alleging that the requirement is unconstitutional.<sup>56</sup> Although SF136 passed through committee, it advanced no further.

Part 5: 2023 State Government Alignment.

In January 2023, Governor Reynolds announced her plan to align state government for the first time since 1986. Citing the need to steward Iowans' tax dollars responsibly, the Governor observed that "like any large organization, government is marked by bureaucracy's natural tendency to grow. If that growth isn't constantly checked and rechanneled toward its core function, it quickly takes on a life of its own."<sup>57</sup>

By adhering to the principles of leveraging shared services, improving efficiencies, decreasing costs, and elevating Iowans' interactions and outcomes with the executive branch, the Governor's alignment streamlined her Cabinet agencies from 37 to 16, including finalization of the consolidation of the Departments of Public Health and Human Services. The proposal also consolidated most of the state's occupational licensing functions within the Department of Inspections, Appeals, and Licensing, which for its own part projected a significant cost-savings and will result in a substantial reduction of government spending.<sup>58</sup> The bill, introduced as Senate

File 514, passed the legislature with bipartisan support and was signed into law on April 4, 2023.<sup>59</sup>

The Governor's alignment focused on state agencies and departments, not boards and commissions, with three notable exceptions. First, SF514 amended the structure of the Public Employment Relations Board by transitioning its three members from full-time to part-time status and created a full-time executive director position.<sup>60</sup> Second, SF514 transitioned all five members of the Board of Parole to full-time status.<sup>61</sup> Finally, the legislation clarified the composition of the newly formed Council on Health and Human Services.<sup>62</sup> The legislation also gave the Council on Health and Human Services the authority to establish ad hoc advisory committees as needed to advise the Council, giving the Council the ability to determine membership of those advisory bodies.<sup>63</sup>

The final substantive division of SF514 created this Boards and Commissions Review Committee. The legislation directs this Committee to “study the efficiency and effectiveness of each board, council, commission, committee, or other similar entity of the state established by the Code,” evaluate the extent to which the goals and objectives of those entities are being met, and make recommendations for the continuation, elimination, consolidation, or reorganization of those entities as needed.<sup>64</sup> The Committee's findings and recommendations must be submitted to the Governor and the General Assembly no later than September 30, 2023.

COMMITTEE MEETINGS

The Boards and Commissions Review Committee operated on an aggressive timeline due to the breadth of its work and a statutory deadline of September 30.

The Committee's first meeting convened on June 26, 2023. Kraig Paulsen, Director of the Department of Management, was elected Chair. Given the large number of entities to review, the Committee used six working groups to scrutinize each board or commission more thoroughly. Each working group would be comprised of two voting members of the Committee and would review approximately 30–50 boards grouped by subject matter.<sup>65</sup>

To assist each working group, an information request was sent to boards and commissions. The Committee requested a wide span of information, including general and historical information, membership requirements, meeting data, member compensation and other associated costs, staffing needs, required reports, and contact information for any needed follow-up. The Committee requested additional information from boards that have the authority to license or levy fees. A significant majority of boards and commissions provided information to the Committee for its review.<sup>66</sup>

The Committee's second meeting convened on August 29. The purpose of the second meeting was to receive report-outs from the six working groups after members reviewed information received from boards and commissions, considered input received from interested stakeholders and board members, and any other relevant feedback from state officials or public employees. Working groups proposed initial board-specific recommendations for the continuation, elimination, consolidation, or reorganization of each board or commission. The working groups also provided the rationale for each change during the meeting. The Committee then also made several general findings and raised preliminary general recommendations, most of which applied across all boards.<sup>67</sup>

<sup>66</sup> The battery of questions sent to boards and commissions is contained in Appendix E. Responses submitted by boards and commissions have been incorporated into a briefing for each board or commission from which the Committee received information. See Appendix G.

Committee members felt strongly that the public should have the opportunity to provide input on each working group's initial recommendations. The Committee therefore invited the public to submit written comments digitally and scheduled a public meeting dedicated exclusively to receiving comments and testimony regarding the recommendations.

The Committee's third meeting convened on September 6, 2023. The Committee received testimony from 68 citizens, board members, stakeholders, and state or local leaders. Testimony included general support and general opposition, as well as specific feedback and perspective on over 50 boards and commissions. The Committee found the public input valuable and took all matters under advisement. The Committee also received over 1,100 written comments from members of the public, which were distributed to all Committee members.

The Committee's fourth and final meeting convened on Monday, September 25. Each working group gave another report-out that included any changes to the initial recommendations that had been provided during the earlier Committee meeting. The working groups made numerous changes to those initial recommendations. Each group emphasized the value and significance of comments and input received from the public. The Committee then held discussion on the contents of this Report and, by a unanimous vote, approved the filing of this Report with the Governor and the General Assembly.

FINDINGS

Consistent with Section 2803 of 2023 Iowa Acts Chapter 19, and as approved on September 25, 2023, the Boards and Commissions Review Committee makes the following findings related to the current structure, organization, and composition of Iowa's boards and commissions.

Finding 1: Iowa should strive for better public participation in its boards and commissions process.

Boards and commissions add significant value to state government by offering insight from the community, industry, and relevant interest groups. And especially in the context of advisory bodies, it is important for a board's membership to cover a wide spectrum of perspectives and beliefs. However, there is a delicate tipping point when a board's membership is created: policymakers should be mindful to not require too many members, meetings, prescriptive requirements for membership, or too much political scrutiny so that it becomes practically difficult to find Iowans that are willing and able to serve. A board with no members—or no working quorum—is not an effective measure of success.

Out of the 256 boards and commissions reviewed by this Committee, the Governor is required to appoint over 1,000 Iowans. Another 1,100 Iowans serve on boards or commissions by designation or appointment by other public officials. But not all Iowans are eligible to serve in each position. In fact, Iowa law limits appointees to many boards and commissions based on variety of factors, including a person's political affiliation, gender, race, age, profession, experience, elected status, residence, income level, or ability to be nominated by a private association, among other hyper-specific requirements.<sup>68</sup>

Of course, it is not uncommon for several of those limitations to apply to one position, which makes it even more challenging to locate an individual who is eligible to serve. For example, in the licensing context, the combination of professional, gender, and political requirements makes it particularly challenging to find eligible board members on licensing boards for occupations dominated by one sex or the other, such as interior design, nursing, cosmetology, dietetics, massage therapy, occupational therapy, and speech pathology (occupations more often held by females), or engineering, electrical, and plumbing (occupations more often held by males).

Aside from eligibility, an Iowan must also be willing to serve. Service on a state board or commission can require significant preparation and contributions prior to, during, and after formal meetings. Service on some boards requires travel and time away from family and children. Although members can receive a payment of $50 per day and reimbursement for other expenses such as mileage, some Iowans will not—or cannot—sacrifice a day at work or home to serve on a board or commission. If the State expects its citizens to contribute their time and lend their voice to state government, the State should ensure that the time is well spent.

Finally, aside from eligibility and willingness, this Committee recognizes the significance of senate confirmation to serve on many boards and commissions.<sup>69</sup> Although most individuals are confirmed unanimously and without fanfare, some Iowans may be hesitant to participate on a board or commission given the sometimes highly charged nature of politics and any coverage resulting from the confirmation process.<sup>70</sup>

Ultimately, there are time-honored reasons to encourage a broad spectrum of perspectives to be represented on state boards and commissions. The Committee finds, however, that these legal and practical barriers can prevent Iowans from being eligible for and serving on boards. To the extent possible, those barriers should be removed.

<sup>69</sup> See Iowa Code § 2.32(8) (requiring support from two-thirds of the Iowa senate to be confirmed).

<sup>70</sup> See, e.g., Stephen Gruber-Miller, Iowa Senate Democrats vote down four of Kim Reynolds' judicial nominating commission picks, D.M. Register (May 24, 2022) (on file with Committee); Stephen Gruber-Miller, Iowa Senate Democrats tank three of Gov. Kim Reynolds' nominees for state boards, D.M. Register (June 11, 2020) (on file with Committee).

Finding 2: The number of boards and commissions in Iowa will continue to grow without a meaningful mechanism to review their effectiveness.

Iowa would greatly benefit from an ongoing review of its state boards and commissions. Whether such a review process looks like this Committee's review or through different means, Iowans will benefit from a more regular conversation about the effectiveness of our boards and commissions. Most large enterprises and private corporations are constantly assessing and reassessing the strengths and weaknesses of their organizational structures, and state government should be no different.

Eliminating a board or commission from the Iowa Code is hard. Every year, numerous bills are introduced into the legislative process to modify, reorganize, or eliminate one or more boards. And nearly every year, those bills fail to advance to passage. But conversely, adding a board or commission is relatively easy. It's no surprise, then, that the number of boards and commissions in Iowa will continue to grow without a meaningful mechanism to review their effectiveness on a rolling basis.

A regular review process, with objective criteria, is healthy for state government. While it's possible that such a review process could confirm the need for every board that is reviewed, it's more likely that an objective process would facilitate meaningful changes to boards and commissions—no matter how marginal the changes may appear—and advance through the legislative process.

Not unlike this Committee, the reviewing body should be collaborative and include members from the executive and legislative branches. The review process should be guided by the same principles the State has embraced in its other alignment efforts while also embracing the time-honored purposes of the boards-and-commissions model: meaningful, effective participation by Iowans and direct participation in their state government.

In addition to annual reviews, sunrise and sunset provisions are critical for the health of Iowa boards. The legislature should engage in a more purposeful analysis before creating a new board or commission.<sup>71</sup> And Iowa currently has no criteria for the automatic sunset of a board of any size or caliber. Sunset provisions begin an important dialogue among policymakers and stakeholders regarding the ongoing need for a board or commission—conversations that are not occurring now.

Finding 3: The current structure of advisory boards is inefficient and ineffective.

Nearly 50% of the boards and commissions reviewed by this Committee are advisory—i.e., boards that hold no official policymaking, rulemaking, or decision-making authority but serve to provide valuable perspective and advice to a policymaker. While it is critical for policymakers to stay informed by the public, the current structure of patchwork advisory boards is not providing the best value to policymakers or board members. For example, this Committee identified approximately 30 advisory bodies within the Department of Health and Human Services alone. Creating 30 individual silos within one executive branch agency has not proven to be a productive model.

Advisory boards are commonly created by the legislature in Iowa Code with prescriptive membership requirements and a targeted, narrow purpose. There is nothing inherently flawed with this method; however, Iowa is leaving value on the table. Codifying the board, without an automatic sunset or repeal, permanently cements the board into existence. Mandating its membership, regardless of how an issue evolves, renders the board's perspective inflexible. And defining its purpose too narrowly can prevent the board from 'seeing the whole picture,' as complex policy issues commonly require broader discussions for more comprehensive solutions.

Too many advisory boards dilute the strength of those boards. Board members would benefit from a broader-defined purpose and more diverse perspectives represented from other communities, organizations, or stakeholder groups. Without those views represented, any findings or conclusions from a narrowly defined board are unfairly caveated as just that—too narrow. Policymakers (some of whom spend countless hours serving on multiple advisory boards) must then carry those conclusions to other narrowly defined boards and find consensus among them. Iowa can and should also reduce the risk of any "silo effect" of its advisory boards.

For example, the Department of Transportation has used the ad hoc Freight Advisory Council to assist the Department on freight mobility policies, programs, and investments since 2012.<sup>72</sup> The Department uses the Council to identify cutting-edge issues in the freight industry and to solicit information on key economic developments amongst interested stakeholders, all within the bounds of Iowa's open meetings laws. If the Council becomes irrelevant at some point in the future, the Department can shut it down. If its membership should evolve, the Department changes its membership. But because the Council is not permanently etched in Iowa Code, policymakers at the Department can ensure that the Council's existence will not outlive its usefulness.

Finding 4: Part-time boards and commissions are rarely well-positioned to manage the core functions of executive branch agencies.

Nearly every state board or commission is part-time: its members have other responsibilities at home, at work, and in their communities. This is universally true for boards and commissions that are charged with overseeing state executive branch agencies such as the Board of Corrections, Council on Health and Human Services, and the Natural Resource Commission. For those boards in particular, members are generally not subject-matter experts on the programs, funds, or initiatives implemented by the agency; rather, public members provide valuable perspective and serve an important oversight function for the agency.

In other words, there must be a careful balance of responsibilities for part-time agency oversight boards. Tipping the balance one way or the other does a disservice to the agency and its public members.

On one hand, state executive branch agencies are commonly responsible for implementing many programs, adopting wide-ranging policies, and promulgating rules and guidance that affect large sectors of the state's economy. Any one of those core executive branch duties involves significant time and resources from state employees in the form of research, drafting, and consultation with stakeholders and industry. An agency must always be transparent and open to a dialogue with its oversight board; however, delaying or refusing to implement a policy or rule based on the schedule or impulse of the board can have harmful effects and is not in the State's best interest.

On the other hand, part-time board members do not have the time or the resources to become subject-matter experts on those same core executive branch duties. As a practical matter, board members are instead commonly sent information and data from the agency to prepare for meetings, typically provided counsel or guidance on any decision points, and routinely given a recommended course of action from agency staff or agency legal counsel. Board members, without the expertise or time to prepare, may then routinely approve staff recommendations after an opportunity for comment. But this "rubber stamp effect" is not in the State's best interest, either.

Ultimately, there must be great care in delineating the powers, authorities, and responsibilities of part-time boards that manage or oversee the core functions of executive branch agencies.

Finding 5: Iowa requires a license or certification for many of its occupations and its standards across all license types are inconsistent, ineffective, and unequal.

One significant achievement of the Governor's alignment was the consolidation of nearly all occupational and professional licensing functions of state government within the Department of Inspections, Appeals, and Licensing.<sup>73</sup> Consolidating those functions within one department allows a unique opportunity to capitalize on any weaknesses in the State's approach to occupational and professional licensure.

According to a 2022 study, Iowa has the country's 12th-worst regulatory environment for low-income occupations in the country, a figure that is based on the number of low-income occupations that are licensed and the overall burden created by licensure via required education, experience, exams, and fees.<sup>74</sup> While Iowa generally requires less average days lost to burdensome education and experience requirements and charges less in licensure fees, the State licenses 70% of low-income occupations—nearly 20% more than the average state.<sup>75</sup> Those numbers have real economic impact: while citizens in other states join the workforce today, Iowans will be waiting on the sidelines.

The State of Iowa, through the Department of Inspections, Appeals, and Licensing, should always look for ways to improve our occupational licensing process. One component is finding the balance between a licensing board and licensing staff. Once the Department operates at scale, it may find efficiencies in processing applications that boards are not capable of—even when a board remains the final decisionmaker. Another component is whether an independent board is necessary at all, once considering the number of licensees, volume of disciplinary matters, and the need for subject matter expertise. Only around half of Iowa's occupational licenses are regulated by a board, the remainder are overseen by an agency or department.<sup>76</sup>

Finally, and as noted previously, the need for a sunrise and sunset review process is particularly strong for licensing boards. According to another recent study, enacting a meaningful sunrise process will ensure Iowa's regulatory environment for occupational licensure can improve.<sup>77</sup> Sunrise reviews overwhelmingly recommend against licensure, and most recommend against new burdensome regulation. Iowa would stand to benefit from a similar process for our licensed occupations and professions.

RECOMMENDATIONS

Consistent with Section 2803 of 2023 Iowa Acts Chapter 19, and as approved on September 25, 2023, the Boards and Commissions Review Committee makes the following recommendations to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of Iowa's boards and commissions.

Recommendation 1: Establish an ongoing review process for all boards and commissions, including true enforcement of sunrise and sunset provisions.

All boards and commissions, no matter their size or responsibilities, should be reviewed on a regular four-year rolling basis. Although that review could be conducted by the already existing State Government Efficiency Review Committee,<sup>78</sup> this Committee recommends that the review process should be collaborative and include members from the executive branch, legislative branch, and members of the public currently serving on a board or commission.

Board reviews should consider the usefulness, performance, and efficacy of each board, including an analysis of the costs related to the board's existence and the cost of agency staff time spent in support of the board's activities. Reviews should also evaluate the objective and primary purpose of the board and consider whether the board should be abolished or merged with any other entity or whether its duties and responsibilities should be reexamined. To be effective, these reviews must be meaningful, and any conclusions enforced. State law should make clear that if a board or commission is not recommended to continue by the reviewing entity, the board shall be repealed.

Iowa's sunrise provisions must be strengthened. Currently, Iowa law requires that the legislature consider several factors before creating a new board, such as whether those duties could be performed by an existing board, the annual costs of a new board, and whether a repeal date is appropriate.<sup>79</sup> Although these are valuable considerations, the legislature should consider making them requirements—perhaps as legislative findings in the bill itself, a required report prior to debate on the floor,<sup>80</sup> or support of at least three-fifths of its members to create a new board.<sup>81</sup>

Finally, boards and commissions should sunset unless reauthorized. For example, the creation of an advisory body could include an automatic sunset of two years unless extended by the legislature or renewed by an agency director, in the case of an ad hoc advisory body.<sup>82</sup> All other boards and commissions could include an automatic sunset of four years consistent with the annual reviews discussed above.

Recommendation 2: Reform the structure of advisory boards to create stronger channels for citizen input and facilitate meaningful perspective for policymakers.

The legislature should consider changing the method in which advisory boards are created because the current structure is not providing the best value to policymakers or board members.

Advisory boards, especially on topical or evolving policy issues, should be required to include a two-year sunset. Although the existence of these boards can always be extended, it is not necessary for this type of board to live in perpetuity. Otherwise, board members and policymakers find little value in attending meetings, approving minutes, and scheduling future meetings.

Fundamentally, the legislature should more often task a department director, a department's oversight board, or other policymaker to create its own informal ad hoc advisory board and, if applicable, report back to the legislature with any deliverable or relevant findings. Advisory boards should be assembled much more nimbly, and the Iowa Code is no such venue. As discussed previously, the Department of Transportation's Freight Advisory Council is one good example of the effectiveness of these more flexible boards.

Directors (and some department oversight boards) already have the authority to convene these advisory bodies and those channels should be used more often. For example, instead of creating another advisory board within the Department of Health and Human Services, the legislature should consider tasking the Director or the HHS Council directly to explore an issue, listen to community groups, or consult subject matter experts when implementing department policies. The HHS Director and the HHS Council each have existing authority to explore such issues without the creation of a new advisory board.<sup>83</sup> Other department oversight boards should be given that same authority.

Nothing about this structural change diminishes the importance of valuable input from Iowans and stakeholders in informing state policymakers. These changes will allow Iowans to have a stronger voice in their government and greater access to public officials.

<sup>83</sup> 2023 Iowa Acts ch. 19, § 327 (authorizing the HHS Council to establish ad hoc advisory committees); Iowa Code § 7E.3(3) (authorizing the HHS Director to establish ad hoc advisory committees).

Recommendation 3: Modernize Iowa's open meetings laws to allow virtual or hybrid meetings more easily, which will expand public participation.

In March 2020, Iowans learned to conduct business through unconventional means due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Videoconferencing and online meetings became the standard, not the exception. (And “Zoom” is no longer used as a verb, but instead more commonly as a noun.)

Yet despite the new ways that Iowans have learned to conduct business, Iowa's open meetings law on electronic meetings has not been updated since 1978.<sup>84</sup> Under that provision, a governmental body may conduct a meeting by electronic means only when a physical, in-person meeting is “impossible or impractical” and only if the governmental body complies with other standard requirements. Although the terms “impossible or impractical” are not defined, Iowa's governmental bodies should be more encouraged to conduct business efficiently and effectively through virtual means, especially when doing so will not prevent the public from observing its work.

Iowa's open meetings law related to electronic meetings should be updated to allow virtual or hybrid meetings more easily, which will expand public participation in those meetings. The more Iowa governmental bodies integrate technology into their meetings, the easier it will become to learn about the innerworkings of our state and local governments. Information received from state boards and commissions confirms that boards regularly offer electronic options for participation.<sup>85</sup>

To facilitate this recommendation, the legislature should amend Iowa's open meetings laws consistent with changes similar to those proposed in last year's House File 566 related to boards and commissions of the Department of Health and Human Services.<sup>86</sup> That legislation defined “hybrid meeting,” “remote participation,” “teleconference participation,” and “virtual meeting,” all terms that—quite safely—did not exist in 1978. Legislation could clarify that a governmental body complies with Iowa's open meetings laws so long as board members appear in person or virtually, and that members of the public are provided an opportunity to observe remotely via teleconference or videoconference.

This recommendation expands public participation in government, revises antiquated statutes, and saves unnecessary travel expenses for Iowa's public officials and board members.

Recommendation 4: Remove arbitrary meeting requirements and allow boards and commissions to convene only as truly needed.

Boards and commissions are often created with a requirement to meet on a certain cadence—be it quarterly, yearly, or at a particular time and place.<sup>87</sup> Other boards are given the flexibility to determine when and how often the board should meet.<sup>88</sup> While the Committee sees the benefit of both options, boards should not be required to meet arbitrarily and should instead only be required to convene when truly needed.

Boards and commissions are filled with Iowans from across the state. And when members travel to attend a public meeting or a public hearing, the State is often paying for members' time, travel, and sometimes their lodging, too.<sup>89</sup> Certainly, if a meeting is warranted, it makes sense for the State to pay for members to participate and engage. But it makes less sense for the State to pay those costs simply because the Code mandates that a meeting of the board take place.

The Committee acknowledges that this change is minor and may have little effect. For example, a board may decide to continue meeting quarterly or annually, even without a requirement to meet at a certain cadence. But member engagement on boards and commissions is critical. Any change that increases the efficacy of board meetings and the interest of board members is productive and should be considered.

<sup>87</sup> See, e.g., Iowa Code § 305.6 (the State Records Commission “shall meet quarterly”); Iowa Code § 256.32(3) (the Advisory Council for Agricultural Education “shall meet a minimum of twice annually”); Iowa Code § 307A.1A(2) (the Transportation Commission “shall meet in July of each year”).

<sup>88</sup> See, e.g., Iowa Code § 261.1(3) (meetings of the College Student Aid Commission “may be called by the chairperson or a majority of the voting members”).

<sup>89</sup> See generally Iowa Code § 7E.6 (describing per diem costs and reimbursable costs).

Recommendation 5: Allow the most qualified Iowans to serve on boards and commissions by repealing the gender-balance requirement.

Iowa law has required all state boards and commissions to be “gender balanced” since the late 1980s.<sup>90</sup> The requirement was extended to local boards in 2009; however, the requirement does not apply to local boards if a good-faith effort is made to find a qualified individual for three months.<sup>91</sup>

In 1987, no Iowa woman had been elected to any of the following public offices: United States Senate, United States House of Representatives, Governor, Chief Justice of the Iowa Supreme Court, Majority Leader of the Iowa Senate, or Speaker of the Iowa House of Representatives. In 2023, all offices have now been held by an Iowa woman.

Legislative history clearly indicates the goal of the gender-balance requirement was to place more Iowa women into places of leadership in state government. But the foregoing makes clear that Iowans have changed their collective mind on any perceived inequities between men and women representing the State of Iowa in leadership positions.

The gender-balance requirement also prevents the most qualified Iowans from serving. Nearly half of Iowa’s population is systematically excluded from being considered for appointment to any seat on a board or commission. This exclusion is not based on merit, but instead on an immutable characteristic. And this inequity cuts both ways. For example, females are only given half of the member spots on licensing boards for professions in which over 90% of its licensees are female, such as interior design, nursing, cosmetology, dietetics, massage therapy, occupational therapy, and speech pathology. Similarly, over 90% of licensed engineers, electricians, and plumbers are male, but men only receive half of the member spots on those licensing boards. Seats on these boards and commissions go un-filled as a result. Participation on boards should be encouraged, not discouraged.

Finally, any gender- or race-based classifications in the law are constitutionally suspect.<sup>92</sup> The State is currently facing litigation based on the gender-balance requirement and local subdivisions have faced similar lawsuits.<sup>93</sup> This Committee would remove all requirements for membership on Iowa boards and commissions based on an individual’s sex, gender, or other immutable characteristic.

<sup>90</sup> 1986 Iowa Acts ch. 1245, § 2041; 1987 Iowa Acts ch. 218, § 8. The Committee acknowledges that the gender-balance requirement has long been understood to require a balance of the sexes—i.e., males and females. The Committee uses the term “gender balance” despite a growing, legally significant difference between the terms “gender” and “sex.”

Recommendation 6: Increase engagement on identified critical boards and commissions by compensating members for their more than “part time” work.

Generally, Iowans are not paid to serve on a board or commission in a part-time capacity unless the legislature has provided for some sort of compensation. For many boards, members are entitled to a $50 per-diem payment plus reimbursement for other identified expenses, such as mileage.<sup>94</sup> For other boards, members receive no compensation whatsoever and are truly volunteering their time. In any event, Iowans are not serving on boards and commissions to make a profit.

There are currently three commissions on which part-time members receive a salary: the Transportation Commission ($10,000 per year), the Iowa Telecommunications and Technology Commission ($12,000 per year), and the Racing and Gaming Commission ($10,000 per year).<sup>95</sup> These commission members are not turning a profit, either: members spend a significant amount of time preparing for meetings and, in some cases, travel extensively as a part of being a board member.

Though not lucrative, the Committee concludes that a nominal salary of $10,000 per year for identified boards and commissions has several important benefits. First, increased compensation helps to recruit highly qualified, knowledgeable Iowans to serve. The citizens of Iowa are busy people, and the Committee recognizes that a salary can incentivize those into service that may not otherwise have time to do so. And second, for whom much is given, much is expected. A nominal salary should only be assigned to those boards that require significant preparation before meetings and significant follow-up after meetings. Boards that require participation in working groups and subcommittees so that the board's work can continue at a manageable pace. Those members should be compensated for their valuable time that could be spent at work, at home, or with their family.

The Committee recommends extending an annual salary of $10,000 for board members serving on the Board of Regents, the Council on Health and Human Services, and the Board of Education. Each of these boards and commissions have significant responsibilities and require a significant breadth of expertise. And a nominal salary for its members will increase engagement and compensate members according to the true value of their work.

<sup>94</sup> Iowa Code § 7E.6(1). For purposes of this recommendation, the Committee is not addressing the salaries for full-time positions on boards and commissions, such as the Board of Parole, the Employment Appeal Board, or the Property Assessment Appeal Board.

<sup>95</sup> Iowa Code § 7E.6(4) (Transportation Commission); id. § 8D.3(2)(a)(3) (Telecommunications and Technology Commission); id. § 99D.5(4) (Racing and Gaming Commission).

Recommendation 7: Clarify the budget and rulemaking roles of a part-time board or commission that oversees a full-time executive branch agency.

Agency oversight boards provide valuable perspective to state departments and agencies while serving a critical oversight function. However, there must be a careful balance of responsibility for part-time agency oversight boards in two areas: agency rulemaking and agency budgets.

In Iowa, the legislature can empower any executive branch entity to promulgate rules—including departments, agencies, boards, or commissions.<sup>96</sup> Boards that “live” within an agency are not required to seek permission from that agency before beginning the rulemaking process. And conversely, agencies should not be required to seek approval from a board when promulgating its own rules.

Agencies should continue to seek advice and recommendations from their oversight board. In fact, agencies should be encouraged to do so early in the rulemaking process. Board members can provide productive feedback on any problems in a rule package because members are presumably knowledgeable about the agency’s activities. And the interests and backgrounds of the members can provide a valuable sounding board for agency action.<sup>97</sup> But for those same reasons, direct participation in the rulemaking process by part-time board members can raise questions relating to conflicts of interest, bias, and ex parte communications that can be imputed to the agency itself.<sup>98</sup> By vesting rulemaking in the agency, and not a board, the legislature indicated its intent that the agency has the final say on its rules—not the board.<sup>99</sup>

Similarly, related to agency budgets, while agencies are strongly encouraged to seek advice and consider recommendations from their oversight board, agencies should not be required to seek the board’s approval before submitting the agency’s budget. Directors of state agencies have broad authority and discretion over the administration of a department, including budget matters. And while a board oftentimes defers to the technical expertise of staff on budget issues, this board authority can put a department crossways with other stakeholders. For example, both the Natural Resource Commission and the Environmental Protection Commission have authority to approve the budget of the Department of Natural Resources and are each empowered to increase any item within the budget before approval.<sup>100</sup> Those competing interests are plainly problematic for the Department and should be avoided when possible.

Recommendation 8: Implement clear, consistent, and effective licensing standards to reduce barriers to entry into the workforce while continuing to protect the health and safety of Iowans.

Iowa must reduce the regulatory burden forced onto Iowa workers. The following recommendations will result in clearer, more consistent, and more efficient licensing standards and will reduce barriers to entry into the workforce while continuing to protect the health and safety of Iowans.

- Uniform continuing education requirements. Currently, Iowa's licensing boards are required to set the number of continuing-education hours required for license renewals and dictate other specific requirements related to the quality and manner of continuing education hours.<sup>101</sup> Boards should not be required to establish continuing education if there is not a substantiated benefit to public health and safety. Oftentimes, continuing education is offered at a fee by professional associations and other third-party providers. Continuing education reform threatens a revenue stream for those private entities. Meanwhile, unreasonable continuing education requirements cost Iowa's licensed workers time and money without improving public health and safety. This is essentially a tax. Like all taxes, this should be set by the Iowa legislature and narrowly tailored to allow working Iowans to keep their own money and make Iowa a competitive destination for the licensed workforce, while balancing necessary training for public health and safety. Hours and topics should only be required if fundamental to the practice of the profession.
- License renewal cycles. Now that most licensing functions are under the control of DIAL, the Department should study renewal cycles and implement a uniform renewal cycle no later than 2025.
- DIAL staffing. Some licensing boards require specific professional backgrounds for full-time staff or executive directors, while others have statutory authority to be consulted in the hiring or firing of executive directors or secretaries. Such prescriptive language can make it challenging to find qualified applicants and ignores the responsibilities of DIAL to staff and administer these licensing boards. Those requirements should be eliminated, and all licensing boards and commissions should be staffed by the Department with access to subject-matter experts. Staffing the boards should be the primary responsibility of the Department.
- Lobbying activities. Currently, DIAL proposes legislation on behalf of most licensing boards. And this makes sense—boards should exist to license, test, discipline, and otherwise regulate licensed professionals. However, the boards of Medicine, Nursing, Pharmacy, and Dentistry—the “Big Four”—currently have authority to lobby legislative proposals. The Department should assume those responsibilities.

- Administrative Authority. Boards and commissions are responsible for setting the standard of practice through administrative rule, issuing discipline, and granting or denying any requested waivers. But the Department needs administrative authority in the complaint process, specifically to close complaints that do not meet a certain minimum threshold. The Board of Nursing, for example, receives 600 complaints per year and investigates every one, which diminishes attention to those complaints more serious in nature.
- Nursing school certification. Nursing schools shall be deemed by the Department based on national certification or accreditation.
- Contested case hearings. Licensing boards often find it difficult to find prospective members with the time or means to sit through days-long disciplinary hearings. The Board of Nursing, for example, regularly schedules 2 to 3 days of hearings at each board meeting. Permitting administrative law judges to hear contested case hearings would streamline the disciplinary process considerably, giving finality to Iowans more quickly.
- Fee Reviews. Due to the new licensing and regulation fund created as part of the Governor's alignment, licensing boards should no longer be required to conduct an annual fee review.<sup>102</sup> The legislature could direct the Department of Inspections, Appeals, and Licensing to conduct a fee review based on identified criteria, including a comparison to surrounding states.
- Board membership. Licensing boards commonly require a certain percentage of its members be an individual holding a license regulated by the board. However, in the case of a licensing board regulating multiple licenses, boards generally do not need representation of less advanced license types. Individuals holding a more advanced license type are sufficiently equipped to regulate those other licensees and protect the public.

Recommendation 9: Consolidate, merge, eliminate, or otherwise reorganize Iowa's boards and commissions to allow state government to better serve its citizens.

In addition to the general recommendations outlined above, the Committee makes the following board-specific recommendations, organized by working group.

Licensing & DIAL Working Group

- The Committee recommends no change to the following boards and commissions:
  - Advanced Practice Registered Nurse Compact; Board of Barbering and Cosmetology Arts and Sciences; Interstate Commission of Nurse Licensure Compact Administrators; Board of Nursing Home Administrators; State Racing and Gaming Commission; Physical Therapy Compact Commission.
- The Committee recommends merger or consolidation of the following boards and commissions:
  - [NEW Consolidated Board]. The three boards below should be consolidated into a new seven-member board focusing on mental health. Each profession interacts with related populations and each board addresses similar disciplinary matters. Mental health continues to be a critical issue, especially after the COVID-19 pandemic, and Iowans would benefit from a collaborative forum in which related occupations can coordinate supervision of licensees. The merged board would regulate approximately 9,500 licensees. Over the past two and a half years, the boards below have fielded nearly 350 complaints.
    - Board of Behavioral Science
    - Board of Psychology
    - Board of Social Work
  - [NEW Consolidated Board]. The four boards below should be consolidated into a new seven-member board focusing on healing and rehabilitative practices. The merged board would regulate approximately the same number of licensees as the Board of Medicine but would have far fewer complaints to resolve. Over the past two and a half years, the boards below have fielded 158 complaints (roughly 11% of the Board of Medicine's complaint workload).
    - Board of Athletic Training
    - Board of Chiropractic
    - Board of Massage Therapy
    - Board of Physical and Occupational Therapy
  - [NEW Consolidated Board]. The three boards below should be consolidated into a new seven-member board for building and construction occupations. Boards have chronic issues finding qualified Iowans to serve given prescriptive requirements. The merged board would oversee approximately 30,000 licensees and handle roughly 200 complaints per year.

- State Building Code Board of Review
- Electrical Examining Board
- Plumbing and Mechanical Systems Board
- Architectural Examining Board. In addition to assuming the duties of the Landscape Architectural Examining Board, the Board's membership should be reduced from 7 to 5 members, to include three licensed architects, one landscape architect, and one public member. The requirement that a licensed practitioner is only eligible to serve on the Board once in active practice for five years preceding the appointment should be removed to expand the number of Iowans eligible to serve on the Board.
  - Landscape Architectural Examining Board. This Board should be eliminated, and its functions transferred to the Architectural Examining Board.
- Board of Medicine. In addition to the changes below, the Board's membership should be reduced from 10 to 7 members, to include three members licensed to practice medicine and surgery, one member licensed to practice osteopathic medicine and surgery, and three public members. The Board's delegated authority to staff should be reviewed to allow for more efficient licensure and enforcement resolution.
  - Board of Physician Assistants. This Board should be merged under the Board of Medicine as a standing advisory subcommittee consisting of three licensed physician assistants.
  - Board of Podiatry. The Board currently requires five licensed podiatrists despite only having 260 licensees statewide. The Board should be merged under the Board of Medicine as a standing advisory subcommittee consisting of one licensed podiatrist, one licensed prosthetist, and one orthotist.
  - Board of Respiratory Care and Polysomnography. This Board should be merged under the Board of Medicine as a standing advisory subcommittee consisting of two respiratory care practitioners and one polysomnographic technologist. The requirement that a licensed practitioner is only eligible to serve on the subcommittee once in active practice for six years preceding the appointment should be removed to expand the number of Iowans eligible to serve on the subcommittee.
  - Board of Speech Pathology and Audiology. The Board as constituted is too large: over the past two and a half years, there were generally 5 or less of its 7 members in attendance. The Board should be merged under the Board of Medicine as a standing advisory subcommittee consisting of two speech pathologists and one audiologist. Audiologists should also be able to dispense hearing aids without additional licensure as a hearing aid specialist.

- Board of Medicine (Alternates). Alternates are rarely used by the Board. This Board should be merged under the Board of Medicine's statute and limited to three members.
- Board of Pharmacy. In addition to making the Prescription Monitoring Program Advisory Council a standing subcommittee of the Board, the Board's membership should be reduced from 7 to 5 members, removing one licensed pharmacist and one public member. The Board's delegated authority to staff should be reviewed to allow for more efficient licensure and enforcement resolution.
  - Prescription Monitoring Program Advisory Council. This Council should become a standing subcommittee of the Board of Pharmacy. The Council's membership should be decreased to no more than five members, which should all be prescribing professionals designated from the boards of pharmacy, medicine, nursing, and the proposed new board focusing on mental health.
- The Committee recommends reorganization of the following boards and commissions:
  - Accountancy Examining Board. The Board's membership should be reduced from 8 to 5 members, removing one certified public accountant (CPA), one licensed public accountant (LPA), and one public member. There are only 58 LPAs statewide, and CPAs on the Board can adequately regulate the profession.
  - Iowa State Civil Rights Commission. The Commission's membership should be reduced from 7 to 5 members. The Commission's authority should also be thoroughly reviewed and clarified.
  - Dentist and Dental Hygienist Compact Commission. The chairperson of the Board of Dentistry should be automatically designated as the State's commissioner in continuing to participate in this multistate compact.
  - Board of Dentistry. The Board's membership should be reduced from 9 to 7 members, removing one licensed dentist and one public member. The Board should also be given the authority to convene ad hoc advisory committees as determined necessary to advise the Board, including but not limited to a committee regarding the practice, discipline, education, examination, and licensure of dental hygienists.
  - Engineering and Land Surveying Examining Board. The Board's membership should be reduced from 7 to 5 members, removing one licensed professional engineer and one public member. Additionally, the requirement that a licensed practitioner is only eligible to serve on the Board once in active practice for five years preceding the appointment should be removed to expand the number of Iowans eligible to serve on the Board. Finally, certain duties of the Board, including examination scoring, should be transferred to the Department.

- Board of Mortuary Science. The Board's membership should be reduced from 7 to 5 members, removing one licensed mortuary scientist and one public member.
  - Board of Nursing. The Board's membership should be reduced from 7 to 5 members, removing one licensed registered nurse and one public member. Additionally, the requirements for registered nurses to serve should be relaxed to expand the number of Iowans eligible to serve on the Board.
  - Board of Optometry. The Board's membership should be reduced from 7 to 5 members, removing one licensed optometrist and one public member. For the past two years, the Board has been successfully operating while averaging five members in attendance per meeting.
  - Real Estate Appraiser Examining Board. The Board's membership should be reduced from 7 to 5 members, removing one licensed real estate appraiser and one public member. Additionally, the requirement that a licensed real estate appraiser is only eligible to serve on the Board once in active practice for five years preceding the appointment should be removed to expand the number of Iowans eligible to serve on the Board.
  - Real Estate Commission. The Commission's membership should be reduced from 7 to 5 members, removing one licensed practitioner and one public member. Additionally, the requirement that a licensed practitioner is only eligible to serve on the Commission once in active practice for five years preceding the appointment should be removed to expand the number of Iowans eligible to serve on the Commission.
  - Board of Sign Language Interpreters and Transliterators. The Board's membership should be reduced from 7 to 5 members, removing one licensed practitioner and one consumer of interpreting or transliterating services. For the past two years, the Board has been successfully operating while averaging four members in attendance per meeting.
- The Committee recommends elimination of the following boards and commissions:
- Boiler and Pressure Vessel Board. This Board should be eliminated, and its functions assigned to be administered by the Department of Inspections, Appeals, and Licensing. The Director is authorized to convene an informal, ad hoc advisory body on boiler and pressure vessels.
  - State Building Code Advisory Council. This Council has met twice in the past two and a half years. The legislature should codify the state building codes into statute, eliminating the need for this Council.

- Dental Hygiene Committee. This Committee should exist as an informal, ad hoc committee convened at the discretion of the Board of Dentistry.
- Board of Dietetics. This Board has met five times over the past two and a half years, has received zero complaints against licensees, and has received zero complaints of unlicensed practice. If credentialing of dietitians is deemed necessary, the State should register dietitians credentialed by the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics.
- Elevator Safety Board. This Board should be eliminated, and its functions assigned to be administered by the Department of Inspections, Appeals, and Licensing. The Director is authorized to convene an informal, ad hoc advisory body on elevator safety.
- Fire Extinguishing System Contractors and Alarm Systems Advisory Board. This Board should be eliminated, and its functions assigned to be administered by the Department of Inspections, Appeals, and Licensing. The Director is authorized to convene an informal, ad hoc advisory body on fire extinguishing and alarm systems.
- Health Facilities Council. This Council should be eliminated, and its duties transferred to the Department of Health and Human Services or the Department of Inspections, Appeals, and Licensing. The criteria for approving certificate of need should be reassessed.
- Board of Hearing Aid Specialists. This Board should be eliminated, and hearing aid specialists should be directly licensed by the Department of Inspections, Appeals, and Licensing.
- Interior Design Examining Board. Iowa has one of only seven fully independent interior design boards. Many states do not require a license or registration to practice interior design and the Board has not fielded any complaints against interior designers. The Board currently requires five registered interior designers as members despite only having 77 interior designers statewide. Iowa's title act should be amended to eliminate the Board but require national certification (NCIDQ) for individuals who want to stamp and seal their interior design plans and drawings, which would address any concern for qualification and would improve workforce concerns by allowing interior designers that are nationally certified to easily practice in Iowa.
- Midwifery Advisory Council. This Council requires four certified professional midwives (CPMs) as members but there are only an estimated 14 CPMs statewide. The Council has seven members but exists under the purview of the Board of Nursing, which itself has seven members (and is recommended to move to five). The statute is highly prescriptive, and the Board of Nursing can administer licensure without the Council. Like the Board of Dentistry, the Board of Nursing could also be given the authority to convene ad hoc advisory committees as determined necessary to advise the Board.

- Board of Pharmacy (Alternates). The Board of Pharmacy does not use alternates and there is no need for this Board.

State Government Working Group

- The Committee recommends no change to the following boards and commissions, grouped by policy area:
  - Department of Administrative Services: State Records Commission; Terrace Hill Commission.
  - Department of Corrections: Interstate Commission for Adult Offender Supervision; Department of Corrections Judicial District Advisory Boards.
  - Department of Transportation: Farm to Market Advisory Board; Mid-America Port Commission.
  - Department of Public Defense: Armory Board.
  - Department of Homeland Security & Emergency Management: Flood Mitigation Board.
  - Non-Cabinet Executive Entities: Board of Parole; Iowa Ethics and Campaign Disclosure Board; Iowa Law Enforcement Academy Council; Iowa Public Information Board; Prosecuting Attorneys Training Coordination Council; Voter Registration Commission; Board of Examiners for Voting Systems; Executive Council; Iowa State Fair Board; Tobacco Settlement Authority Board; Commission on Uniform State Laws.<sup>103</sup>
  - Inter- or Other-Branch Entities: State Judicial Nominating Commission; District Judicial Nominating Commissions; Commission on Judicial Qualifications; Board of Law Examiners; Magistrate Appointing Commission.
- The Committee recommends merger or consolidation of the following boards and commissions:
  - Transportation Commission. This Commission serves a valuable purpose and no changes are recommended; however, it should assume the responsibilities of the following, which should be eliminated:
    - Secondary Road Fund Distribution Committee. This Committee can serve as an ad hoc, advisory subcommittee of the Transportation Commission that makes recommendations to the Commission on funding distribution.

<sup>103</sup> The Committee recommends that the Secretary of State undertake a review of the Voter Registration Commission and the Board of Examiners for Voting Systems for effectiveness, necessity, and appropriate size and membership.

- State Historical Society of Iowa Board of Trustees. In addition to assuming the State Historical Records Advisory Board, the Board's membership should be reduced from 12 to 7 members.
  - State Historical Records Advisory Board. This Board should be eliminated, and its functions transferred to the State Historical Society Board of Trustees. That Board can serve as a federal grant recipient as needed.
- The Committee recommends reorganization of the following boards and commissions:
  - Board of Corrections. The Board's rulemaking functions should be transferred to the Department of Corrections, and it should not have control over the approval of the Department's budget but rather may review and make recommendations. The Board should not have the authority to adopt Department policies but should review and provide necessary oversight.
  - Commission of Libraries. The Commission should continue to review the State's plan of service and advise the Director of the Department of Administrative Services and the State Librarian; however, the Commission's rulemaking authority should be transferred to the Department.
  - Statewide Interoperable Communications System Board. The Board's membership should be reduced from 19 to a smaller number of no more than 7 members. The Board's fee authority should be evaluated.
  - State Fire Service and Emergency Response Council. The Board's membership should be reduced from 12 to 5-7 members.
  - Iowa Telecommunications and Technology Commission. The Executive Director should be appointed by and serve at the pleasure of the Governor. The Commission's rulemaking authority should transfer to the Iowa Communications Network (ICN).
  - Crime Victim Assistance Board. The Board's rulemaking authority should be transferred to the Department of Justice.
- The Committee recommends elimination of the following boards and commissions:
  - Capitol Planning Commission. This Commission should be eliminated. The Director of the Department of Administrative Services can select expert advisors or convene an ad hoc advisory body as needed for the purposes of Capitol planning.
  - Interstate Compact for Adult Offender Supervision State Council. The State of Iowa should maintain participation in this compact; however, it may not be necessary to codify the State Council in order to maintain compact status. If compact participation is not contingent upon a statutorily defined council, then this Council should be eliminated.

- Criminal Detainers Compact. The State of Iowa should maintain participation in the compact, but this function should be assigned to staff of the Department of Corrections.
- Prison Industries Advisory Board. This Board should be eliminated. The Director of the Department of Corrections has authority to solicit advice from subject matter experts.
- Commercial Air Service Retention and Expansion Committee. This Committee is defunct, as it no longer meets once its mission was completed in 2014 by creating a plan for retention and expansion of commercial air service.
- Horizontal Infrastructure Advisory Subcommittee. This Subcommittee should be eliminated, and its functions assigned to the Department of Transportation. The Director has the existing authority to consult subject matter experts. The Director should set bid levels after consulting such subject matter experts, as needed.
- Integrated Roadside Vegetation Management Technical Advisory Committee. This Committee should be eliminated, and its functions assigned to the Department of Transportation. The Director has existing authority to consult subject matter experts, as needed. For this purpose, the Director should continue to benefit from the knowledge and expertise of the members of this Committee through professional engagement.
- Mississippi River Parkway Planning Commission. This Commission is largely defunct after designation as a national scenic byway in 2000. Eliminating the Commission would save the state $15,000 in dues to a national association. After completion of the Commission's mission, it has largely been functioning and operating as a state scenic byway, primarily promoting tourism along the road. If structured differently, and not codified, such an organization could join the State's 13 other scenic byways and participate in the Iowa Byways Sustainability Program and would be eligible for significant funding through that program.
- Tourist Signing Committee. This Committee serves a valuable purpose but the functions should be assigned to the Department of Transportation. The Director has existing authority to consult subject matter experts. For this purpose, the Director should consult with other state agency and outdoor advertising stakeholders in fulfilling the responsibilities of this function.
- Vertical Infrastructure Advisory Subcommittee. This Subcommittee should be eliminated, and its functions assigned to the Department of Transportation. The Director has the existing authority to consult subject matter experts. The Director should set bid levels after consulting such subject matter experts, as needed.

- Iowa Drug Policy Advisory Council. This Council should be eliminated, as the Director of the Department of Public Safety has the authority to seek advice from subject matter experts as needed or convene an ad hoc advisory body related to the same.
- Propane Education and Research Council. This Council should be eliminated, and the functions of the Council should be assigned to the Department of Agriculture and Land Stewardship. The Department has existing professional engagement with stakeholders and can seek advice from subject matter experts as needed in fulfilling the functions of this Council.
- 911 Communications Council. This Council should be eliminated. The Director of the Department of Homeland Security and Emergency Management has the authority to seek expert advice in the administration of duties.
- Consumer Advisory Panel. This Panel is not needed, as the public can engage the Office of Consumer Advocate directly. The Panel has not met in over a year.
- Public Funds Interest Rates Committee. This Committee should be eliminated, and its functions, including setting minimum interest rates and determination of which financial institutions are eligible to accept deposits of public funds, should be set by the Treasurer of State, in consultation with subject matter experts as needed.
- Public Policy Research Foundation. This entity is defunct and has taken no meaningful action in years.
- Board of Examiners of Shorthand Reporters. Shorthand reporters serve the vital function of creating accurate transcripts of legal and other important proceedings. Accordingly, while the Board is recommended for elimination, its functions including the certification of this profession should continue and be assigned to the Department of Inspections, Appeals, and Licensing. There are 328 licensees in this State, but the Board has incurred over $80,000 in administrative costs over the last two years. The Department should certify shorthand reporters in accordance with the highest professional standards in the field, establish a means to solicit input and participation from licensed professionals, and ensure the process produces licensed reporters capable of maintaining the continued integrity of official records. Licensed shorthand reporters should benefit from any cost savings, with the fees charged to those seeking certification reduced in proportion to the cost savings achieved through more efficient processing by the Department.
- Street Construction Fund Distribution Advisory Committee. This Committee is defunct, as it no longer meets once completing its mission in 2003.

- Interstate Cooperation Commission. This Commission is inactive and has outlived its purpose. The Commission was created in a drastically different time and is no longer necessary to encourage cooperation or correspondence with other states, or share information related to compacts and uniform laws.

Agriculture & Natural Resources Working Group

- The Committee recommends no change to the following boards and commissions, grouped by policy area:
  - Department of Agriculture and Land Stewardship: Iowa Beef Cattle Producers Association Executive Committee; Iowa Corn Promotion Board; Iowa Crop Improvement Association Board; Iowa State Dairy Association; Iowa Dairy Industry Commission; Iowa Egg Council; Iowa Grain Indemnity Fund Board; State Horticultural Society; Livestock Health Advisory Council; Pesticide Advisory Committee; Iowa Pork Producers Council; Renewable Fuel Infrastructure Board; Iowa Sheep and Wool Promotion Board; Iowa Soybean Association Board; Iowa Turkey Marketing Council; Water Resources Coordinating Council.<sup>104</sup>
  - Department of Natural Resources. Midwest Interstate Low-Level Radioactive Waste Compact Commission.
- The Committee recommends merger or consolidation of the following boards and commissions:
  - Natural Resource Commission. The members on this Commission should serve four-year terms moving forward, instead of six-year terms. The Commission also should not have control over the approval of the Department's budget. The Commission should assume the functions of other boards and committees, which could be eliminated:
    - Farmer Advisory Committee. This Committee should serve as an ad hoc, advisory subcommittee of the Natural Resource Commission.
    - State Advisory Board for Preserves. This Board should serve as an ad hoc, advisory subcommittee of the Natural Resource Commission.
- The Committee recommends reorganization of the following boards and commissions:
  - Environmental Protection Commission. This Commission should not have control over the approval of the Department of Natural Resources' budget.
  - State Soil Conservation and Water Quality Committee. This Committee should provide expert advice and consultation; however, the Committee should not have rulemaking or policymaking functions over a division of the Department of Agriculture and Land Stewardship, which should be transferred to the Department and the Secretary.

<sup>104</sup> The Committee recommends that the Secretary of Agriculture undertake a review of many of the boards and commissions under his supervision for appropriate size and membership.

- Iowa Board of Veterinary Medicine. This Board should change one of its public members to be a farmer not licensed as a veterinarian to capture a non-veterinarian perspective in licensing.
- The Committee recommends elimination of the following boards and commissions:
  - Conservation Education Program Board. This Board should be eliminated and its functions transferred to the Department of Natural Resources. The Director can consult with subject matter experts as needed and administration of grants can be a staff responsibility.
  - Federal Clean Air Act Compliance Advisory Panel. This Panel appears defunct and has no members. If federal funds are at risk, the Panel's functions should be transferred to the Department of Natural Resources.
  - Iowa Comprehensive Petroleum Underground Storage Tank Fund Board. This Board should be eliminated as there are fewer underground petroleum facilities statewide. No new funds should be assigned to the program and existing funds should be spent down, with a program sunset.
  - Advisory Council for Public Outdoor Recreation and Resources. This Council should be eliminated and any applicable functions assigned to staff at the Department of Natural Resources. The Council appears to be defunct and has not met in 15 years due to no funding to distribute.
  - Commercial Pesticide Applicator Peer Review Panel. This Panel should be eliminated because the process is rarely utilized. The process is also duplicative, as civil penalties can be appealed to an administrative law judge.
  - Farm Deer Council. The Secretary of Agriculture already has the authority to establish ad hoc advisory groups and consult subject matter experts as needed.
  - Grain Industry Peer Review Panel. This Panel has not been used in the last 10 years. The process is also duplicative, as civil penalties can be appealed to an administrative law judge.
  - Local Food and Farm Program Council. The Secretary of Agriculture already has the authority to establish ad hoc advisory groups and consult subject matter experts as needed.
  - Organic Advisory Council. The Secretary of Agriculture already has the authority to establish ad hoc advisory groups and consult subject matter experts as needed.

- Private Pesticide Applicator Peer Review Panel. This Panel should be eliminated because the process is duplicative, as civil penalties can be appealed to an administrative law judge.
- Watershed Planning Advisory Council. This Council is duplicative of the Water Resources Coordinating Council.
- Well Contractors' Council. The Secretary of Agriculture already has the authority to establish ad hoc advisory groups and consult subject matter experts as needed.

Education, Workforce & Labor Working Group

- The Committee recommends no change to the following boards and commissions, grouped by policy area:
  - Department of Education: Ad Hoc Accreditation Quality Faculty Plan Protocol Committee; Iowa Dyslexia Board; Child Development Coordinating Council; Education Commission of the States; State Board of Educational Examiners; Council on Educational Opportunity for Military Children; Interstate Commission on Educational Opportunity for Military Children; Midwestern Higher Education Compact; School Budget Review Committee.
  - Workforce Development. Iowa Apprenticeship Council.
  - Non-Cabinet Executive Entities. Commission for the Blind; Statewide Independent Living Council; Vocational Rehabilitation Advisory Council.
- The Committee recommends merger or consolidation of the following boards and commissions:
  - State Board of Education. This Board's membership should be reduced from 10 to 7 members and should add the Director of Workforce Development as an ex officio, nonvoting member. Board members should receive an annual salary of $10,000. The Board should also assume the functions of the following, which could be eliminated:
    - State Board for Career and Technical Education. This Board already is the Board of Education; therefore, the functions should be more formally consolidated under the duties of the Board of Education.
    - Community College Council. Four of the six members of this Council also serve on the Board of Education. The Council can therefore serve as an ad hoc, informal subcommittee of the Board.
    - Nonpublic School Advisory Committee
  - Local Workforce Development Boards. The Committee recommends that local workforce development boards should be strongly encouraged to continue the trend toward consolidation in order to maximize approximately $12 million in federal dollars available annually to local boards.

- Employment Appeal Board. This Board serves a valuable function and should continue. Additionally, the Board should assume all functions of the following boards, which should be eliminated:
  - Public Employment Relations Board
- The Committee recommends reorganization of the following boards and commissions:
  - Advisory Council for Agricultural Education. The Council's membership should be reduced and its requirements for membership be relaxed to expand the number of Iowans eligible to serve on the Council.
  - Iowa Autism Council. Awareness of autism issues are critical in the education space; however, the Council could be reorganized to include representation for students with other disorders that may affect learning.
  - State Board of Regents. Board members should receive an annual salary of $10,000.
  - College Student Aid Commission. The Commission's voting membership should be reduced to 5 to 7 public members appointed by the Governor, consisting of at least one student, one parent, and an individual with a financial or fiduciary background. Members representing the Board of Regents, Iowa private colleges and universities, and Iowa community colleges should be non-voting and selected by the Board of Regents or representative associations to prevent the appearance of a conflict of interest.
  - Iowa Public Broadcasting Board. The Board's membership requirements, particularly for Governor-appointed members, should be relaxed to expand the number of Iowans eligible to serve on the Board.
  - Iowa Workforce Development Board. Due to alignment, the Board's voting membership should be reduced from 33 to 29. The Board's non-voting membership should also be reduced.
  - Higher Education Loan Authority. The term length for members should be reduced from 6 to 4 years and members should be limited to two full terms.
- The Committee recommends elimination of the following boards and commissions:
  - Community College Faculty Advisory Committee. This Committee should be eliminated, and can serve as an informal, ad hoc advisory committee convened by the Director of the Department of Education as needed.
  - Commission Educator Leadership and Compensation. This Commission has only met 9 times over the past two and a half years and has an abnormally large membership of 19. The Commission should be an informal, ad hoc advisory committee convened by the Director of the Department of Education as needed.

- Postsecondary Course Audit Committee. The functions of this Committee should be transferred to the Department of Education. If needed, the Director of the Department of Education can convene an informal, ad hoc advisory group.
- Quality Faculty Plan Professional Development Committee. This Committee has met zero times in the past two and a half years.
- Telecommunications Advisory Committee. This Committee has met zero times in the past two and a half years.
- Leopold Center for Sustainable Agriculture Advisory Board. This Board has only met one time in the past two and a half years.
- Area Education Agency Advisory Groups. These advisory groups should be eliminated as it is unclear if they are being utilized by AEA boards of directors. There is no publicly available information showing advisory group appointments by boards of directors or annual reports issued by advisory groups, both of which are required under state law.

Economy & Finance Working Group

- The Committee recommends no change to the following boards and commissions, grouped by policy area:
  - Department of Insurance & Financial Services: State Banking Council; Credit Union Review Board; Iowa Comprehensive Health Insurance Association Board.
  - Department of Management: State Appeal Board; Customer Council for Services; Revenue Estimating Conference (REC); Utility Replacement Tax Task Force.
  - Department of Revenue: Streamlined Sales and Use Tax Agreement Governing Board.
  - Economic Development Authority. Iowa Arts Council; Bioscience Development Corporation Board; Brownfield Redevelopment Advisory Council; Iowa Capital Investment Board; City Development Board; Iowa Energy Center Governing Board; Iowa Wine and Beer Promotion Board.
  - Finance Authority. Agriculture Development Board; Iowa Finance Authority Board of Directors; Iowa Title Guaranty Board.
  - Non-Cabinet Executive Entities: Board of Trustees of the Iowa Department of Public Safety Peace Officers' Retirement, Accident, and Disability System ("PORS"); Statewide Fire and Police Retirement System Board of Trustees ("411"); Investment Board of the Iowa Public Employees' Retirement System ("IPERS").

- The Committee recommends merger or consolidation of the following boards and commissions:
  - Economic Development Authority Board. In addition to assuming the responsibilities of the Enhance Iowa Board, this Board's voting members should all be at-large positions and should not be limited to congressional districts. This change will lead to greater flexibility to appoint qualified applicants.
  - Enhance Iowa Board. This Board should be eliminated and the functions transferred to the Economic Development Authority Board, which is more than capable of assuming those functions. A merger will also result in more efficient use of IEDA staff time in preparing for Board meetings.
  - Dual Party Relay Council. The Utilities Board is well-placed to continue to collect the assessment necessary to fund the Dual Party Relay Service Program; however, it is not well-suited to house the Council and administer the Program itself. As discussed below, the Council should move under the supervision of the Dept. of Health and Human Services and merge with the Commission of Deaf Services.
- The Committee recommends reorganization of the following boards and commissions:
  - City Finance Committee. The Committee serves a valuable purpose; however, its Governor-appointed members should instead be appointed by the Director of the Dept. of Management. The prescriptive population-level requirements should also be removed to increase the number of qualified applicants willing to serve.
  - County Finance Committee. The Committee serves a valuable purpose; however, its Governor-appointed members should instead be appointed by the Director of the Dept. of Management. The prescriptive population-level requirements should also be removed to increase the number of qualified applicants willing to serve.
  - Alcoholic Beverages Commission. The Commission should retain its ability to advise the Director of the Dept. of Revenue related to alcoholic beverage control; however, the Commission's policymaking and rulemaking authorities should be removed, including the Commission's ability to affirm, reverse, or amend all actions of the Revenue Director.
  - Iowa Lottery Board of Directors. Under Iowa law, a "commission" is defined as a policymaking body that has rulemaking powers. Because the Board has limited policymaking and rulemaking authority, the Board should be renamed the "Iowa Lottery Commission."
  - Iowa Innovation Council. The Council currently has 29 members, which is unnecessary and unwieldy. There is also no compelling need for a State Chief Technology Officer to exist in the Code solely to serve as Chair of the Council. The Council's membership should be reduced and the Council should elect its own chair.

- Technology Commercialization Committee. This Committee serves a valuable purpose. Given the time-intensive nature of its duties, Committee members should be eligible for per diem and reimbursement for mileage to and from meetings.
  - Benefits Advisory Committee. This Committee serves a valuable purpose. The Director of the Dept. of Administrative Services, who currently serves as a member, should be able to assign a designee to serve as a member of this Committee.
  - Property Assessment Appeal Board. The Board serves a valuable purpose; however, it appears the process for challenging an assessment has become more complicated and expensive for a taxpayer over time. All property taxpayers should have a more informal, speedier, and cheaper alternative available to them when reconsidering assessments prior to an appeal to district court.
  - Iowa Utilities Board. Under Iowa law, a "commission" is defined as a policymaking body that has rulemaking powers. Because the Board has policymaking and rulemaking authority, the Board should be renamed the "Iowa Utilities Commission."
- The Committee recommends elimination of the following boards and commissions:
- Interstate Midwest Energy Commission. This Commission is defunct and should be eliminated.
  - Streamlined Sales Tax Advisory Council. This Council has not met for several years, is defunct, and should be eliminated.
  - Iowa Cultural Trust Board of Trustees. The legislature has not appropriated funds to the Trust since FY2015.
  - Iowa Great Places Board. There is no funding for the programs administered by the Board and it should therefore be eliminated.
  - Iowa Innovation Corporation Board. This Board is defunct and should be eliminated.
  - Iowa Council on Homelessness. The functions of this Council can be performed by staff of the Iowa Finance Authority without any gap in services, and as such, no separate Council is needed. The Director has the authority to convene an informal, ad hoc advisory body as needed.

Human Services Working Group

- The Committee recommends no change to the following boards and commissions:
- Child Advocacy Board; Early Childhood Iowa State Board; State Council for Interstate Juvenile Supervision; Interstate Commission for Juveniles; Iowa Medical Assistance Drug Utilization Review Commission; Medical Assistance Pharmaceutical and Therapeutics Committee; Medical Cannabidiol Board; State of Iowa Youth Advisory Council.

- The Committee recommends merger or consolidation of the following boards and commissions:
- Council on Health and Human Services. Consistent with its advisory role, the Council should not have control over the approval of the Department's budget and rules. But given the Council's significant oversight responsibilities, Council members should receive an annual salary of $10,000. The Council already can convene ad hoc committees on any topic of interest, including but not limited to child and family services, behavioral health, public health, and the Department's interactions with the justice system.<sup>105</sup> Thus, the Council should expand its ability to advise the Director of the Department by absorbing many topical advisory committees that are currently separate, which could be eliminated. Any policymaking or decision-making functions of the following bodies should be transferred to the HHS Council:
    - Commission on Aging
    - Advisory Council on Brain Injuries
    - Children's Behavioral Health System State Board
    - Congenital and Inherited Disorders Advisory Committee
    - Emergency Medical Services Advisory Council
    - Family Development and Self-Sufficiency Council
    - Justice Advisory Board
    - Mental Health and Disabilities Services Commission
    - Tobacco Use Prevention and Control Advisory Council
    - Commission on Tobacco Use Prevention and Control
    - Trauma System Advisory Council
    - Iowa Collaboration for Youth Development Council
  - Human Rights Board. The Human Rights Board is tasked with increasing Iowa's inclusivity and coordinating a unified State strategic plan to remove barriers for all underrepresented populations in Iowa. But the Board itself is constituted almost exclusively of members from other independent commissions, most of which are tasked with advocating on behalf of an identified underrepresented population. This duplicitous structure is problematic because each individual commission's perspective is necessarily siloed from the views of other commissions. The structure also disadvantages underrepresented groups in Iowa that do not have an existing independent commission.

The State should speak with one voice on such significant issues and aim to create the most collaborative forum for such important conversations. With those principles in mind, the Human Rights Board should become that forum by consolidating the following independent commissions, each of which should hold at least one position on the newly constituted seven-member Board:

- Commission on the Status of African Americans
  - Commission of Asian and Pacific Islanders
  - Commission of Persons with Disabilities
  - Latino Affairs Commission
  - Commission of Native American Affairs
  - Commission on the Status of Women
  - Commission of Deaf Services. The Commission serves a valuable purpose and no changes are recommended; however, it should merge with the Dual Party Relay Council for the reasons discussed above.
    - Dual Party Relay Council
  - Medical Assistance Advisory Council. This Council is required by federal law; however, it should assume the responsibilities of the HAWK-I Advisory Committee and the HAWK-I Board, which should be eliminated.
    - Healthy and Well Kids in Iowa (HAWK-I) Advisory Committee
    - Healthy and Well Kids in Iowa (HAWK-I) Board
  - [NEW] Death Review Committee. All current committees related to death reviews should be combined into a single Death Review Committee:
    - Iowa Child Death Review Team
    - Child Fatality Review Committee
    - Iowa Domestic Abuse Death Review Team
- The Committee recommends reorganization of the following boards and commissions:
- Veterans Affairs Commission. Members appointed by the Governor to this Commission must be selected from a list of names provided by identified Veterans Service Organizations (VSOs). Thus, in the event a VSO proposes no names, no one can be appointed. The Commission has suffered from chronic vacancies for this very reason. The Governor should have the ability to appoint otherwise qualified applicants, including those belonging to a VSO, without having to choose from a list of names submitted by those organizations.
  - Iowa Commission on Volunteer Service. The Commission's membership should be reduced to the minimum number required to constitute a state service commission under federal law.

- The Committee recommends elimination of the following boards and commissions:
- Advisory Committee for Perinatal Guidelines. This Committee should be eliminated because the Department of Health and Human services can perform its functions and the Director has the authority to convene an informal, ad hoc committee as needed.
  - Child Care Advisory Committee. This Advisory Committee advises the advisory Stakeholders Alliance. It is therefore redundant and duplicative of functions that should be managed by the Early Childhood Iowa State Board.
  - Leadership Council for Child Care Training and Development. The primary goal of this Council is to develop a proposal for a statewide child care training and development system, a function that should be transferred to the Early Childhood Iowa State Board or in the alternative the Department of Health and Human Services. There is no need for a separate Council for this purpose.
  - Child Support Services Task Force on Liens and Motor Vehicle Registrations. This Committee is defunct, as it has completed its mission and no longer meets.
  - Commission on Community Action Agencies. Although local community action agencies and local community action agency boards serve a valuable purpose, the overarching Commission is duplicitous. This Commission should be eliminated, and any substantive functions be transferred to the Department of Health and Human Services.
  - Dependent Adult Protective Advisory Council. This Council is primarily charged with receiving and reviewing complaints from the public, health care facilities, and health care programs concerning the dependent adult abuse services program. However, in practice, the Department has handled these functions and thus a separate council is unnecessary.
  - Early Childhood Stakeholders Alliance. This advisory alliance is redundant and duplicative of the Early Childhood Iowa State Board. Although the Alliance is designated as Iowa's state advisory council for purposes of the Improving Head Start for School Readiness Act of 2007, this designation should be folded into another board or commission, such as the ECI State Board.
  - Interagency Coordinating Council. This Council advises the State Medical Examiner on a range of issues; however, the Department of Health and Human Services can coordinate this activity without the need for a formal Council.
  - Community Mental Health Centers Mental Health and Disability Services Standards Advisory Committee. This Committee is defunct, as it has completed its mission and no longer meets.

- County Care Facilities Mental Health and Disability Services Standards Advisory Committee. This Committee is defunct, as it has completed its mission and no longer meets.

APPENDIX A: STATUTORY CHARGE

DIVISION XIX BOARDS AND COMMISSIONS

Sec. 2803. BOARDS AND COMMISSIONS REVIEW COMMITTEE — REPORT.

1. A boards and commissions review committee shall be established to study the efficiency and effectiveness of each board, council, commission, committee, or other similar entity of the state established by the Code. The committee shall evaluate the extent to which the goals and objectives of those entities are currently being met and make recommendations for the continuation, elimination, consolidation, or reorganization of those entities as needed.

2. The committee shall consist of six voting members and four ex officio, nonvoting members.

a. The voting members of the committee shall be composed of all of the following:

(1) One staff member of the governor's office, appointed by the governor.

(2) The administrative rules coordinator or the coordinator's designee.

(3) The director of the department of management or the director's designee.

(4) The director of the department of inspections, appeals, and licensing or the director's designee.

(5) One assistant attorney general, appointed by the governor upon recommendation of the attorney general.

(6) One member of the public, appointed by the governor.

b. The ex officio, nonvoting members of the committee shall be two state representatives, one appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives and one by the minority leader of the house of representatives, and two state senators, one appointed by the majority leader of the senate and one by the minority leader of the senate.

3. The office of the governor shall provide staffing for the committee. The committee may seek the expertise and services of individuals or entities outside of its membership for research, advice, consultation, support, or other needs in furtherance of its responsibilities.

4. The committee shall submit a report containing its findings and recommendations to the governor and the general assembly on or before September 30, 2023.

5. All departments, agencies, boards, councils, commissions, committees, or other similar entity of the state established by the Code shall cooperate fully with the committee in its review process.

6. This section is repealed January 1, 2024.

BOARDS & COMMISSIONS REVIEW COMMITTEE
SUBCOMMITTEE RECOMMENDATIONS
AUGUST 29, 2023

*Boards and Commissions Review Committee:
Subcommittee Recommendations (August 29, 2023)*

GENERAL FINDINGS & RECOMMENDATIONS

- FINDING 1: Iowa’s administrative state will continue to grow without an effective mechanism to review boards and commissions.
- FINDING 2: The current organization of advisory boards is neither effective nor efficient.
- FINDING 3: Iowa should strive for better public participation in its boards and commissions process.
- FINDING 4: Part-time boards and commissions are rarely well-positioned to manage the core functions of executive branch agencies.
- FINDING 5: Iowa requires a license or certification for too many occupations, and its standards across all license types are inconsistent, inefficient, and unequal.

RECOMMENDATION 1: Establish an ongoing review process for all boards and commissions, including meaningful enforcement of sunrise and sunset provisions.

RECOMMENDATION 2: Allow more meaningful perspective for public officials by streamlining the structure of advisory boards.

RECOMMENDATION 3: Modernize Iowa’s open meetings laws and expand public participation by more easily allowing virtual or hybrid meeting options.

RECOMMENDATION 4: Allow boards and commissions to convene only as truly needed by removing arbitrary meeting requirements.

RECOMMENDATION 5: Allow the most qualified Iowans to serve on boards and commissions by repealing the arbitrary gender-balance requirement.

RECOMMENDATION 6: Increase engagement on identified critical boards and commissions by compensating members for their “part time” work.

RECOMMENDATION 7: Clarify the budget and rulemaking roles of a part-time board or commission that oversees a full-time executive branch agency.

RECOMMENDATION 8: Implement clear, consistent, and efficient licensing standards to reduce barriers to entry into the workforce.

The state historical society of Iowa has a dual mission of preservation and education. As a trustee of Iowa's historical legacy, the state historical society of Iowa identifies, records, collects, preserves, manages, and provides access to Iowa's historical resources. As an advocate of understanding Iowa's past, the state historical society of Iowa educates Iowans of all ages, conducts and stimulates research, disseminates information, and encourages and supports historical preservation and education efforts of others throughout the state. The state historical society of Iowa is the state agency created and empowered by the general assembly as the official trustee of Iowa's human heritage. |

|              | What is the public interest in licensing?    | The Iowa Board of Athletic Training evaluates the qualifications of applicants for licensure and grants licenses to those who qualify. The Board establishes rules and regulations to ensure the integrity and competence of licensed athletic trainers and investigates complaints for unprofessional conduct. The Board is the link between the consumer and the licensed athletic trainer, as such, promotes the public health, welfare and safety. |
|              | How many states license?                     | 49 states and the District of Columbia regulate the practice of athletic training. Individuals must be legally recognized by the appropriate state regulatory agency prior to practicing athletic training. The BOC exam is recognized by all Athletic Trainer state regulatory agencies to meet their exam requirement. Compliance with state regulatory requirements is mandatory and the only avenue to legal athletic training practice.           |

|              | What is the public interest in licensing?    | The Board evaluates the qualifications of applicants for licensure and grants licenses to those who qualify. The Board establishes rules and regulations to ensure the integrity and competence of licensed barbers and investigates complaints for unprofessional conduct. The Board is the link between the consumer and the licensed Barber and, as such, promotes the public health, welfare and safety. |

|                  | Describe licensing process                | Applications are submitted primarily online; though some are received on paper. Staff review the application and email the applicant with a status of the application, including a list of items that are still outstanding. As additional documentation is received, the items are uploaded into the database and the checklist is updated. After all items are received, the license/registration/permit is issued. In the event an applicant reported disciplinary action in another state, or a criminal history that impacts the practice of the profession, the application is forwarded to the License Registration (or Dental Hygiene) Committee. Following review, the license is issued, or referred to the full board for a final discussion and review.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |

|              | What is the public interest in licensing?    | The Iowa Board of Dietetics evaluates the qualifications of applicants for licensure and grants licenses to those who qualify. The Board establishes rules and regulations to ensure the integrity and competence of licensed Dietitians and investigates complaints for unprofessional conduct. The Board is the link between the consumer and the licensed Dietitian and, as such, promotes the public health, welfare and safety. |

|       | What is the public interest in licensing?    | The Iowa Board of Massage Therapy evaluates the qualifications of applicants for licensure and grants licenses to those who qualify. The Board establishes rules and regulations to ensure the integrity and competence of licensed Massage Therapists and investigates complaints for unprofessional conduct. The Board is the link between the consumer and the licensed Massage Therapist and, as such, promotes the public health, welfare and safety. |

|                  | Describe licensing process                | Applications are assigned to a licensing clerk who works with the applicant to collect all necessary information, educational and certification verifications, and background check authorization and fingerprint cards. Once all required information is completed and a background check is conducted, staff will complete a first review of submitted information to identify any missing or unverified information, as well as any unusual circumstances that would necessitate the collecting of further information. Staff meet on a weekly basis to evaluate applications with any issues to determine whether these can be resolved on a staff basis or whether these need to go before the Board's Licensing Committee for evaluation. Applications without issue or those that can be resolved on a staff level are moved on to second review. At this point, a second licensing clerk will double-check the application to ensure all required information is accounted for and then move it forward to issue the license. When an application is sent to the committee, the committee can either determine they have sufficient information to evaluate the application as submitted or they can request an applicant appear to answer questions about their application. Once the committee has sufficient information, they can recommend to the Board to approve, approve with limitations, or deny the application. |

|                  | - Complaint (no disc.)                    | Complaints with no believed rule violation are flagged by staff and reviewed by the Board's Screening Committee at every in-person meeting for possible closure. In-person meetings occur every other month so the maximum length of time to close these cases would be approximately 60 days. Complaints with a possible rule violation are sent to investigation. These vary in length depending on complexity and urgency of the case. The average investigation takes approximately 12-24 months to complete.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |

Any position of membership on any board, committee, commission, or council in the executive branch of state government which is compensated by the payment of a per diem to the holder of that position under statutory law shall be compensated at the rate of fifty dollars per diem, notwithstanding any other law to the contrary. b. Reimbursement of expenses to the holder of any position governed by this subsection shall be as provided in the applicable law. c. In regard to any board, committee, commission, or council which has its name or organizational location altered after January 1, 1986, the statutory provision on the subject of per diem compensation which was applicable to it on January 1, 1986, shall continue to govern such agency and its successor agency, notwithstanding the change in name or organizational location. 2. Any position of membership on any board, committee, commission, or council in the state government which has a compensation level limited to expenses only is eligible to receive, in addition to such actual expense reimbursement, an additional expense allowance of fifty dollars per day if the holder of any such position applies for such additional expense allowance and the holder of the position has an income level of one hundred fifty percent or less of the United States poverty level as defined by the most recently revised poverty income guidelines published by the United States department of health and human services. 3. Any position of membership on the board of the Iowa lottery authority shall receive compensation of fifty dollars per day and expenses. 4. Any position of membership on the transportation commission shall be compensated at an annual rate of ten thousand dollars. 5. Any position of membership on the board of parole, the public employment relations board, the utilities board, the employment appeal board, and the property assessment appeal board shall be compensated as otherwise provided in law. 6. All of the compensation provisions of this section are subject to the proper appropriations being made in the state budget legislation. 7. It is the intent of the general assembly that this section shall be the governing provision on the subject of the compensation of any position of membership on any board, committee, commission, or council in the state government and that the provisions of this section shall govern over any conflicting provision of law except provisions enacted subsequent to July 1, 1986, notwithstanding the provisions of section 4.7. |

| How are licenses issued                   | All license types can apply on paper application, but most also have an online application option; once issued, the licensee is sent an email with an attachment of their certificate to print; newly licensed pharmacists are mailed a paper wall license                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| Describe licensing process                | Upon receipt of an application, all required elements are entered into the board's licensing database. If any elements are missing, the licensing specialist will send an email to the applicant notifying them of the missing elements to submit. Once all required elements are received and reviewed, the license can be issued. Some licenses require a criminal history background check (RPhs, facility managers for WDs/3PLs) - in those instances, a fingerprint packet and waiver are sent to the applicant to complete and return; the license is pending receipt of the background check results. For new pharmacist licenses, the applicant must take and pass a competency exam (for applicants who have not yet licensed in any state) as well as the jurisprudence exam (all new pharmacist applicants, regardless of licensure in other states). Once their application is complete, they are given an authorization to test which they use to schedule the exam through NABP (noted below). Upon notification that they have passed the required exam(s), the license is issued. Some license applications require an inspection prior to issuing the license (pharmacies, CSA-Bs). Once the application is complete, the licensee is notified that they must reach out to their assigned compliance officer to schedule the opening inspection. Upon completion of the opening inspection, the license is issued. |
| How are exams administered                | The Board utilizes the services of the National Association of Boards of Pharmacy to administer the NAPLEX (competency exam) and MPJE, Iowa Edition (jurisprudence exam). Upon receipt of all required elements for a pharmacist license applicant, they are given authorization to test which they use to schedule the needed exam(s) through PearsonVue testing center. Upon notification from NABP of a passing score for the required exam(s), the license is issued.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |

|              | What is the public interest in licensing?    | The Iowa Board of Physical and Occupational Therapy evaluates the qualifications of applicants for licensure and grants licenses to those who qualify. The Board establishes rules and regulations to ensure the integrity and competence of licensed physical and occupational therapists and investigates complaints for unprofessional conduct. The Board is the link between the consumer and the licensed physical and occupational therapy and, as such, promotes the public health, welfare and safety. |

|                  | Describe licensing process                | Individuals and businesses apply for a license online or via a paper application. Initial applications are reviewed by staff and then approved or if not approved followed up on. Renewal applications are auto approved if all criteria are met and validated in the system. Renewal applications with exemptions or are otherwise not validated by the system are reviewed by staff.                                                                                                            |
|                  | How are exams administered                | State examinations are administered through a MOU with Kirkwood Community College. Kirkwood uses the community college network to provide exams throughout the state. Kirkwood has a contract with the International Code Council (International Mechanical Code) and the International Association of Plumbing and Mechanical Officials (Uniform Plumbing Code) to develop the state exam questions.                                                                                             |

|                    | General mission                        | The Iowa Board of Podiatry licenses podiatrists, prosthetists, orthotists, and pedorthists in the state of Iowa. The Board evaluates the qualifications of applicants for licensure and grants licenses to those who qualify. The Board establishes rules and regulations to ensure the integrity and competence of licensed podiatrists, prosthetists, orthotists, and pedorthists; and investigates complaints for unprofessional conduct. The Board is the link between the consumer and the licensed practitioner and, as such, promotes the public health, welfare and safety. |

|              | What is the public interest in licensing?    | The Iowa Board of Podiatry licenses podiatrists, prosthetists, orthotists, and pedorthists in the state of Iowa. The Board evaluates the qualifications of applicants for licensure and grants licenses to those who qualify. The Board establishes rules and regulations to ensure the integrity and competence of licensed podiatrists, prosthetists, orthotists, and pedorthists; and investigates complaints for unprofessional conduct. The Board is the link between the consumer and the licensed practitioner and, as such, promotes the public health, welfare and safety. |

|           | Describe licensing process                   | Individual completes a 2-page IRGC application and takes to a licensing office located within a casino. An IRGC employee evaluates the application to ensure the applicant meets all statutory qualifications. If qualifications are met, a license is issued at that time. Higher level of responsibility occupations must also complete a DCI background report. Licenses are issued on site but subject to the completion of these DCI background reports. |

|              | What is the public interest in licensing?    | The Iowa Board of Respiratory Care and Polysomnography evaluates the qualifications of applicants for licensure and grants licenses to those who qualify. The Board establishes rules and regulations to ensure the integrity and competence of licensed respiratory care practitioners and investigates complaints for unprofessional conduct. The Board is the link between the consumer and the licensed respiratory care practitioner and, as such, promotes the public health, welfare and safety. |
